

Still got your head in the sand when it comes to long-term care?

Get Informed Now During Long-Term Care Awareness Week!

If the mere mention of long-term care makes you want to run away, now is the perfect time to get your head together! Long-term care protection is an important part of planning for your future... and the future of your family. It lets you decide how, when and where you will receive long-term care.

You won't have to worry about burdening a loved one or spending down your savings.

You've planned for every other stage of your life.
Now it's time to recognize the need to plan for long-term care.

Contact me for no-obligation information and answers.

Long-Term Care Awareness Week™ November 4-10, 2007

www.aaltci.org/info
